Work-Based Learning Program

The Work-Based Learning Program of the Emanuel County School System would like to highlight two businesses for the month of November. Both Allison's Learning Center and Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio and Salon have both been very supportive of work-based learning and have employed students for many years.

Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio and Salon employees Zade Scarboro. Zade is a second year work-based learning student at Swainsboro High School where she is extremely active but still finds time to work part-time and has become a certified beauty consultant and sales associate. She is the daughter of Rhonda and Danny Scarboro.

Allison Durden is employed by Allison's Learning Center. Allison is also a second year work-based learning student at Swainsboro High School. She is the daughter of Dottie and Allen Durden. Allison is involved in numerous organizations on campus and is a member of the Citizen's Bank Advisory Board. After graduation she plans to attend Georgia Southern University to obtain a degree in pre-pharmacy and then attend South University to complete a pharmacy degree.
